CARD OF THANKS
We appreciate the kind sympathy of the Masons, our friends and neighbors in our bereavement and heartily thank them for their many kindnesses and the beautiful flowers which were so comforting.
MRS. HERBERT L. GILMAN.
SON AND DAUGHTER.
AND MISS WILLIS STONE.
Norway, Me.

NORWAY VICINITY

The Old Fellows' minstrels is the next event and tickets have been placed on sale. A large snappy chorus, soloists and fiddlers with brilliant costumes will present a fine opening number. Special features during the second part are arranged to please all tastes and several novelties will be introduced. The dates are Feb.
23 and 24 at Norway. The show will follow the show on the second night.
Shortie Cook is on to his job. He has been looking for us for some time. Mr.
Cook is getting extremely long. We are amusing on becoming a musician or an actor, long hair is necessary. See! (P.
Shortie don't succeed pretty soon. An Advertiser order will be giving plenty of space to Mollie and Gram while they are on tour of the vaudeville circuit.)
Mr. Frank M. Goss, instructor and toy maker of Boston and Melrose, Mass., is coming to the city morning. He is bringing with him a wife at Ned Shepard
's. They have been here some little time and intend to return to the city next week.

St. Mary's Guild will meet with Mrs.
Knox Rickford, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.
The account of Mrs. E. B. Tubbs' funeral in the Heywood Club meeting was posted on this week, Wednesday. It met with Mrs. Adelaide Young at 2 o'clock on the afternoon.

Leaves Spiller, undertaker, feels slightly better.

He was omitted from the list of business men in our last issue.

A couple party under the auspices of the M. E. Church, Norway, will be given in Community Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 26. Program, short entertainment, social hour, and refreshments.

Some ten inches of snow fell during Sunday night and Monday morning. A light fall to the extent of some three inches fell during Monday. Road breakdowns in order and a wing fold.

Wing fold off contrary to the general program this winter until Tuesday when drifting commenced again.

Dr. Julian Brown is about again after being housed some time with an injured leg.

The interior of Hose Co. No. 1 building near home is being plumbed. It is being sketched. The chemical truck is housed there during the winter where steam heat is provided.

Freeman C. Smith and son, Melvin, are home from several months employment as brick masons, in Massachusetts. On October 4, they started for the south in a Ford, in search of work. Reaching Indianapolis, Mass., employment was secured in a large structure and they sold the Ford.
Both have remained on the job until Melvin returned a few weeks ago, suffering with an ear ailment.

Freeman C. Smith is home from the Central Maine General Hospital where he has been under examination for trouble with his chest bones. He is believed to suffer from tuberculosis.

Mrs. Susie Goodspeed, who underwent a critical operation at the Central Maine General Hospital is reported as doing well.

A basket ball team has been organized in Company C, 103 Infantry and it is understood a game has been secured with the Paris A. C. at South Paris.

Mrs. Queenie Saleeby, on Winter St., has opened a barber shop at her home.
Bob McCreedy says his wife has gone into the same line of business and the family difference has been finally settled. Mrs. Saleeby is now working for George for her work, while Mrs. Saleeby does. There is much rivalry between them as to who will do the most and best work in up to the minute fashionable hair dressing.

The W. C. T. U. was very pleasantly entertained last week. Ruth Greenleaf as hostess last week. The Entertainment Committee, under the leadership of the rough weather there was a good number present.

Mrs. Etta Dow of Portland is keeping house for her brother, Wilfred G. Conary.
Conary Mrs. Conary's absence on American Auxiliary matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knight of Portland, Me., are in the city. Mr. Knight is a graduate of Tufts College. The engagement was announced from Tennessee where Miss Knight and her family are now living. The wedding will take place in September.

Rev. Olin B. Tracy was in Lewiston, Thursday, to attend a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, and to attend a meeting of the State Committee of Religious Education. He is chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Hazel E. Conary, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was at Waterville, Thursday, to attend a state meeting in reference to child welfare. She will leave there for a tour of inspection to include Caribou, Fort Kent and Van Buren. She will visit with relatives in Millinocket during her trip.
She expects to be away three weeks.

Harry E. Lovejoy and Frank Estes described the town and corporation reports on Wednesday.

Albert Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L.
Clark, sprained his left ankle and had a hematoma torn during the Inter-Church basket ball game at South Paris, Tuesday evening. He was treated in the office of Dr. D. M. Stewart.

Sis Stearns of Stoneham was a visitor at this office Wednesday. He has been serving as a trustee for his town since Feb. 9 and is glad to be re-elected.

A letter from Vivian Akers at Chicago reports him busy at work at 149 East Huron Street. He is doing just the kind of work he enjoys: Advertising, illustrating, painting and doing all kinds of little snappy things that he can do. He is sure that he will be successful.

S. W. Hapgood of Portland, traveling passenger agent of the Maine Central Railroad made our office a call Wednesday. He was accompanied by E. Hammond our local station agent.

Mr. and Mrs. Eliot A. Fuller entertained the members of the original Artists Club, with refreshments, Tuesday evening, at their home on Main St. Audience was enjoyed and the hostess served dainty refreshments. Those in the garden were Mr. and Mrs. Harry W.
Luck, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Brooks, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Young of the original club, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Jackson.

Mrs. Fidelity M. Jones, who is a part of woman getting at Mollie he wouldn't have gone to Lewiston and won the prize and become famous and rich. You see, she just kept a telling him to do it until he went. "Twas her that did it and not Sullivan, as stated in last week's paper."

MELLIE-GRAMS

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO DO THINGS RIGHT

"I have been reading Harry Packard's story about you in the Sunday Globe. It is very interesting, very readable, very accurate and very fine in the allegory, except that I think he should have had a picture of the first page of the Norway, Oxford County, Me., Advertiser."

It seems to me that he could spend his time to advantage in writing human interest stories of the present-day men who have helped to make Norway famous, men like John Woodman, Mel Sampson, Shortie Cook, the Hosmer boys, the Tubbs, who make snow-shoes, etc., Larry Carroll, Bob Seavey, Fred Howe and numerous others.

A story of that kind ought to go big the coming summer with the thousands of persons who are expected to visit Norway because of the unlimited publicity which Mollie and Gram have given the town. I am glad you are giving plenty of space to Mollie and Gram while they are on tour of the vaudeville circuit.

They apparently dropped out of the local news lines when Monday evening. They led the single host from the start and were never headed. The Lions held the shoe slammers to a tie during the second string, but Henry's victory spoiled the tie.

I suppose that during the coming summer there will be a dance hall on the Dunham farm, where the old time dances can be enjoyed by the summer visitors. It seems to me that such a project would be better than any so-called "old fashioned" dances which Howard Shaw or anyone else could run for the lake summer cottage colony.

Why not suggest it to Mollie? I also think that Roger Hutchins' idea of a hotel on the shore of the lake is a good proposition. Regarding Mollie and Gram or how to get them to live on Crockett's, the time is coming within the next ten years when additional hotel accommodations have got to be built to take care of tourists who make Norway a place to visit for a night, a week or a month or season.

In the vicinity of Mollie's home is an ideal location, much better than the one at Frost's Corner side of the lake. Besides, it could make a fairly good investment for the winter, with the increasing popularity of winter sports. Already I hear of people kicking because of the high rates at hotels like the Mansion House or in the White Mountains, so it seems reasonable that a moderate-rate hotel on the shore of Penesseewassee could be made a winner.

Mollie's Weekly Letter
Another week gone. They go flock of ducks in the night. Spring will come before we know it and we will be home again and ready for the fishing season. All well, having a good time and our art still going over well. Note and cheer the old folks at the mercy of the cold, cold world. Never mind about the old couple. When they are gone and the old folks are gone and a brass band or a steam calico it looks as though some one was glad to see us. We are meeting some very nice people. They are coming to visit us next summer. Let them come. We shall be glad to see them all. I tell them to look for the big fiddle. The old house will be some very different from what I have always heard. The back stage people are a nice bunch to meet, both actors and stage hands. They are all good class of people as you can meet anywhere. We are taking the job and are going to let it do it with all the things we can. We shall be in Providence, B. I., and then Baltimore and Washington. Kind regards to all the boys. Can tell them more when I get home.

With best wishes—Mollie Dunham.

Mollie Revives Old Dances
Mrs. Josephine Ober, social editor of the New York World, makes the following interesting note in last Sunday's issue of that journal:

A fair for the dances of "The Age of Innocence" has been noticed recently and before long it is predicted that the quadrilles, Portland Fancies, Virginia Reels and other extra dances of a grandmother's time will be revived.

Paul Jones has made its appearance at the old big dances, the collations and germans of yesterday are being revived. Mr. Jones is a little history of his wonders in search of games in this vicinity. A personal sketch of what he has done in this line in the fifty years. We hope he will do so.

BIRTHDAY PARTY WAS A SURPRISE
A surprise party was tendered to Mrs. George Hall, Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Hall's birthday. Refreshments were served and all enjoyed a social evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Moore and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dill, Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roy and son, Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tyler and Mrs. Ada Billings. Mr. Hall received many nice gifts.

WALKING GOLF EXERCISE
Ray Goodrich of Hebron is a jurymen. Been here during the short life of this term of court. He stops with his old friend and schoolmate, W. A. Bicknell. They set up late at night rehearsing and reviewing happenings of a fortnight and they lived with their parents and attended the district school in Hebron.

Mr. Goodrich walked over here to attend court. The same he did when he went home over Sunday. It didn't hurt him to travel 12 miles and it was equivalent of earning $25 a week. He was charged with the state of Maine. "It's nothing to walk that distance when you have plenty of time."

What is the Question?
Sent in: "Our names as being alone has gone all over the world, which is worse than if it were just a town affair, and I and my friends are being asked to have a party to publish this in the interest of fairness, so the outside people can have an opportunity of hearing both sides of the question."

Local news always wanted. Send it in. Don't forget to give your name. It will not be printed without first getting permission.

"Red" Thompson and "Cappy" Smith are showing snow from roofs and down the chimneys. They have tackled several tough jobs and put 'em through.

Mrs. Florence Davenport and Miss Elsie Devoe of Auburn are recent guests of Mrs. Alice Biquere.

BOWLING
C. J. Co. 1409; Lions 1337
Henry's team of skoomakers from the Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co., sewed up the game against the Norway Lions with a respectable margin. The shoe workers secured a three-pin lead in the first string and slammed everything flat during the second and third.

Shoemaker Huff led over all with 123 for single string and 322 for the game. He proved a regular beer hunter. "Rusty" Herriek of the Lions made second place with 204 total. The Lions put up a strong front, but wilted. Summary:

Shoemaker Huff 123
Herriek 100 (140)
Snow 107 88 87 282
Chapman 89 80 111 280
Parker 85 85 105 276
Huff 123 107 232

Henry's team again throttled the Lions at the Norway rink Monday evening. They led the single host from the start and were never headed. The Lions held the shoe slammers to a tie during the second string, but Henry's victory spoiled the tie.

Remember: The Fliver costs but a "fliver". With a circulation much larger than any other.

Winter's tide is beginning to ebb, although the air is snappy. The box shop's running once again and every body's happy. The sun is riding higher each morning in the heavens and the snow will soon be "giving" beneath our number sevens, (see footnote) and though the drifts at present reach far beyond our knee-tops, the birds will soon be singing sweet music in the tree tops. Oh, spring will raise our hopes again, ("twill also raise the river"). We hope and pray 'twill raise each day, subscribers for the Fliver.

Editorial: Number sevens should read, number nines, but poetical license No. 0037 permits us to use sevens to rhyme with heavens. Ed.

Counting on Pine Hill seems to be the order of the day and part of the night, and most of our red blooded inhabitants, between the ages of four and forty, are gliding merrily down the steep slopes, every kind of craft imaginable. Skis, bob-sleds, toboggans and barrel staves scoters whizz merrily along in a never ending procession, and an occasional spill but adds to the gaiety of the scene, and helps swell the chorus of lusty lunged youngsters who make the "welkin ring" (whatever a welkin is) with high pitched happy voices.

Well, we don't begrudge 'em of their winter frolics; don't know as it would take much coaxing for us to exchange our dignity for a pair of woolen mittens and risk our neck in just one slide down those snowy slopes. At least, our editorial note would lend color to the scene and serve as a beacon for the sled to which we were assigned.

On the other hand, coasters trudging wearily up the hill might become confused by its brilliance and had decided, result in which case, Coleman would probably ask us some embarrassing questions as to why our dimmers were not on.

Editor-in-Chief: Editor-in-Chief of items brief, R. M. J. writes New Boston Brees.

Fliverettes: The Fliver Ed. laid aside his multitudinous "flivers" and cares of running this "fliver" for a brief Sunday P. M. "fliver" and he was one when he was emerging from his edifice on Bradley Boulevard and stepping jauntily from the door.

He was carried a short distance by a sled, which he had been lying in wait for him in the path, but which glided playfully from beneath his firm tread with such surprising rapidity as to cause the editor to shatter the high kick record for these parts. He swore then (both literally and figuratively) that some day, some day he would conquer that ski duster. The Fliver kids provided the place and as we before stated, he took the time from his arduous duties of editing this world famous periodical.

The younger members of the editor's family displayed their skiing ability at the spot selected and it certainly looked simple, but these same skis which he had so beautifully for the youngsters, became restless and uneasy the moment they felt the dignified pressure of the editor's feet. However with assurances of "It's easy, pop," and "You can make it, dad," the editor kicked off from the summit and commenced his swift descent. The editor has taken a few swift rides, but that short journey had one untrimmed. He started off nonchalantly, with arms akimbo, but the first bump caused a change of tactics and arms were thrust hither and yon; the second bump was the accelerator; skis started off in different directions and a dull thud brought to the editor the realization that, although was over, at least for him, that flight was proceeding to the foot of the hill in a leisurely manner as if they were the most innocent and harmless creatures in the world. The editor slowly and painfully ascended the hill, to find his several offspring rolling on the snow. Could it be that they were writing in agony over the sad fate of their sire? If so why were all so merry as they followed home at a respectful distance, as if well bred and orderly children should?

Although those skis are "boy handy" they have yet to obey the impulse of the Fliver Ed., but some day, some day they will receive a lesson worth remembering, as the editor feels that it would spare the feelings of the youngsters if they are absent on that occasion.

Smith Street Smiles: Boner Ridlon of Rice Hotel has a rare collection of old coins on display. (We never could keep a coin long enough to have it become old, ourselves.)

It is rumored that the local "Craigslist" man, Grant Baxter, Hadson, is about to establish a picture framing business. If Grant is planning to "frame up" anybody, we want to know.

Etta Lydia Sanborn Watt is happily engaged to be married to a young man on a vacation in Nova Scotia with her lesser half, Edso J.

The Husky Hikers are still hitting the trail regularly. They look gr— nice (they are). Ed. said great in their new natty knickers.

These young ladies expect to become light by going in heavy for the walking game.

"Peanut" Stevens, our local taxi operator, is making most of his "runs" on a cribbage board at this season.

We made a hasty exit from a local store one day recently on entering we observed a large sign which read, "Boote Mills." We didn't stop to read any more of it.

Boner Ridlon of Rice Hotel has turned seedman and reports selling excellent packs the first day out. Boner is having a hard time figuring the profit on that day's work after paying Percy Burgess for the seed.

Don't know whether or not selling seeds accounts for his speedy appearance the last day or two.

The Fliver Editor and wife stepped in on Mrs. Edith L. Watt, Sunday, Edso was not at home and as the ladies' conversation turned to "step-ins" the Fliver Ed. decided to step out.

Our officers who staged a supposed liquor dispensary in Kezar Falls were arrested when the judge, upon uncoiling their evidence pronounced the contents turpentine. We'll allow that the judge can tell and we don't see how in thunder these officers expect Kezar Falls to become dry if they persist in confiscating all the "dryer" in the place.

Lesson for February 21

JESUS RAISES LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD

LESSON TEXT—John 11:1-57.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth on Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." John 11:25.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Lazarus Raised from the Dead.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Lazarus Raised from the Dead.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Power Over Death.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ the Resurrection and the Life.I. Lazarus Sick (vv. 1, 2).
Even those who are in close fellowship with the Lord are not immune from sickness. Sorrow comes even to the homes where Jesus is loved.II. Martha and Mary Send for Jesus (v. 3).
Those who receive Jesus into their home when all are well and happy can be sure of His love and sympathy when sickness and death overtake them.III. Jesus' Strange Delay (vv. 4-6).
Martha and Mary send for Jesus because He loved Lazarus. They said, "He whom Thou lovest is sick." Now, Jesus "abode in the same place" because He loved Lazarus and his sisters (v. 5). This mystery is to be explained by the fact that Jesus was divine and knew all things.IV. Jesus Goes to the Bethany Home (vv. 7-17).
At length He turned His face toward the suffering home. Jesus knew and the disciples apparently knew that going into Judea meant His own death. His mission to this home was twofold: to restore to these sisters their brother and to strengthen the faith of the disciples (vv. 11-15). The word "sleep" reveals Jesus' estimate of death.V. Jesus Teaching Martha (vv. 18-27).
As He is nearing the village Martha meets Him with a complaint because of His delay. He ignores her complaint and teaches her concerning the resurrection and life.1. "Thy Brother Shall Rise Again" (v. 23).
Most blessed words are those to fall upon the ears of a suffering sister for a dead brother.2. "I Am the Resurrection and the Life" (vv. 25, 26).
He is the source of life and all are joined to Him by a living faith. The believer cannot die. The great truth indeed to be apprehended is that here we are united to the living Christ, the source of life, and that this is a pledge of bodily resurrection and eternal reunion.VI. Jesus Weeping With Mary (vv. 28-35).
Mary fell at Jesus' feet, uttering the same words used by Martha, but no doubt with a different tone of voice and attitude. Her words were responded to with His tears—"Jesus wept." He is now a sympathizing Savior; He can be touched with the feelings of our infirmities (Heb. 4:15).VII. Jesus Raising Lazarus (vv. 38-44).
His great sympathy now expresses itself in supernatural power. Sympathy would be valueless without this connection with divine power. In this stupendous miracle we see an illustration of the quickening into life of those dead in trespasses and sin.Observe: 1. He Was Dead (v. 39).
This is a type of the sinner dead in trespasses and sins, even morally corrupt (Eph. 2:1).2. The Stone Must Be Rolled Away (v. 39).
This is the part that the human must play.3. Martha's Protest of Unbelief (v. 39).
She insisted that Lazarus had already undergone putrefaction.4. Christ's Intimacy and Fellowship With the Father (v. 42).
In His prayer He declared that it was not for His sake that He prayed, but for those who stood by.5. Christ's Manner of Dealing With Lazarus (v. 42).
It was by a call. He is calling men and women today by His Spirit, Word and providence.6. The Response of Lazarus (v. 44).
This shows that the call of Jesus is with authority and power. With the call goes the power to heal and obey.7. The Command to the People (v. 44).
They were to remove the grave clothes and set him free.VIII. The Effect of This Miracle (vv. 45-57).
Some Believed (v. 45).
2. His Enemies Sought to Put Him to Death (vv. 46-53).
3. His Withdrawal (v. 54).

The Soul of Religion

Always remember that sincerity is the very soul of religion. A single intention to please God and to approve ourselves to Him must animate and govern all that we do.—Philip Doddridge.

Holiness

Holiness is religion shining. It is faith gone to work. It is charity coined into actions, and devotion breathing benedictions on human suffering.—Bishop Huntington.

Farm Management

Specialist

How do the most successful farms make their money? Is the thing to be discussed by M. D. Jones, Farm Management Specialist, with the farmers of five communities in Oxford County, next week. Final arrangements have been made by the local farm bureaus in these towns to have Mr. Jones come from the College of Agriculture at Orono to talk to them on this subject and other phases of farm management.

The first meeting will be held in the Grange Hall at South Waterford, Feb. 23; the second in the Grange Hall at East Bethel, February 24; the third in the K. of P. Hall at Hiram, February 25; the fourth in the I. O. O. F. Hall at Fryeburg, February 26, and the last one will be in the Town Hall in Brownfield, Feb. 27. These will be all day meetings, starting at 10:30 a. m., dinner being served at noon. Everyone in each of the communities interested in farming is invited to attend and to bring the whole family and his own notes.

During the last few years Mr. Jones has been making a study of scores of farm accounts kept by farmers right here in Maine. From these accounts he has taken those representing the best paying farms in the state and made a special study of these accounts along with the methods and practices of management which these successful farmers employ. This is the data that Mr. Jones will have to present at each of the five meetings in Oxford County.

In addition he will devote a part of his time to a discussion of increasing poultry profits, a subject upon which he in cooperation with O. M. Wilbur, poultry specialist, recently published a bulletin. Mr. Jones' talk dealing with poultry is taken from hundreds of poultry accounts which have been kept here in the state and summarized by Mr. Jones himself. The talks will be supplemented by charts and graphs explaining in detail each point that the speaker has to make.

BRIDGTON

Community Services—B. H. S. Senior State Bar Examinations—Bridgton People in Bermuda—Three Operettas Being Prepared.

The second of a series of community services was held Sunday evening, Feb. 7, at the Methodist Church, with some two hundred people present. There was singing by a chorus of thirty voices, composed of the united choirs of the Methodist and Congregational Churches, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Richardson, leader of the Methodist choir. She was assisted by Charles Mackay, cornetist, and Marshall Clarke, violinist, and there were solo parts by Paul Walker, Rev. Ernest P. Doughty, pastor of the Methodist Church, rendered an effective sermon on "Religion and Prosperity." He was assisted in the service by Rev. William A. Richmond, pastor of the Congregational Church. The next community service will be held Sunday evening, March 7, at the Congregational Church. By a vote of Bridgton's "Service Organization," under whose auspices these services are held, the several minor chapters all performed their parts most creditably, the staging was very effective and splendid music was rendered by the school orchestra under the leadership of music instructor, Miss Glynis Voter. The play was given under the management of Miss Helen Hill, English instructor, on the school faculty.

Walker Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Abbott, successfully passed the state bar examinations held in Bangor last week, with very creditable marks. He was the youngest one in a class of twenty, taking the examinations.

Abbott graduated from Bridgton Academy in 1922, and entered Boston University Law School that fall from which he graduated in June, 1925. Since then he has been continuing his studies with Judge J. Bennett Pike of Bridgton. Mr. Abbott is one of Bridgton's popular young men and has many friends who wish him well in his chosen profession.

The Business and Professional Women's Club held a crepe paper costume ball at the Opera House, recently, which was a great success. At the last business meeting of the club, three new members, Miss Laura Baker, Miss Glynis Voter, and Mrs. Lillian Edson were added.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dow and daughter, Carolyn, are enjoying a few weeks in Bermuda.

Fred Hanson of the Sunley Hanson Co. and Merle Libby of the J. F. Libby Co. are in New York this week for the purchase of spring merchandise.

The supper and entertainment by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church was held in the vestry last week, Wednesday, having been postponed from Thursday of last week, its regular date. A good crowd was in attendance.

Miss Eva Howard, who has been home for a period of seven months on account of illness, has returned to her school at Long Branch, New Jersey.

Three operettas by Bridgton pupils are at present being prepared under the direction of music instructor, Miss Glynis Voter.

The first, by the high school boys' glee club, is entitled "Freshies" and will be given on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, at the high school gymnasium before high school students only.

The second one by the Girls' Glee Club is entitled "The Wild Rose," and will be given at the Opera House the latter part of the present school term.

The third one is by the children of the grades, but the date of presentation is not yet decided.

Community Services at Cornish—Sokoldis Truck-Breaks Roads.

Community services have been held in Cornish village for some time and are well attended. Last Sunday afternoon a delegation from here was added to their number. Rev. Gray of Cornish opened with a few remarks which were followed by a chorus singing led by Mr. Miner. Mr. Jameson at the piano and Calvin Woodbury playing the violin. Scripture reading by Rev. Thomas Day. Vocal solo, "Able with Me," W. T. Norton, pray, or by Rev. Gray, piano solo by Miss Mildred Stanley. Rev. Arthur Callaghan gave an inspiring talk on "Service" and also spoke of the pleasure it gave him to meet with others who, regardless of creed, united heart and soul in worshipping the Heavenly Father. The services closed with singing by the chorus and the benediction by Mr. Callaghan.

Mrs. Mabel Black entertained the L. M. R. Club Monday evening, Feb. 8th. There was a very interesting program with roll call answered with poems by Edgar Guest, sketch of Guest's life by Mrs. Ellsworth Sawyer, followed by a vocal duet, Mrs. Elwood Elliott and Mrs. James Chapman. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Ladies' Circle met with Mrs. Benj. Bradshaw, Tuesday afternoon. Twenty-nine were present and reported a very interesting and successful session.

The Sokoldis Lumber Co. with their truck and snow plow combination have done wonderful work in the matter of breaking out roads between here and Cornish Station.

The village roads are admirable and a wonder to the travelling men.

Mellie-Grans

"Mellie" Dunham at the Albee's in Brooklyn.

"Mellie" Dunham, the Maine fiddler made famous by Henry Ford, fiddled his way into the hearts of the audiences at the Albee Theatre last week. He made his bow and he worked his bow and the audience and the crowd was a "wow" for his seventy-two years. In addition he had the able assistance of a band of dancers who showed how to do the old-time steps that have been pushed into the background by the jazz steps of today. Altogether many persons got an idea of old-fashioned dancing bees for the first time and "Mellie" won much applause for his act.

Roger Hutchins Comments

Mellie and Gram got a welcome at Albee's in Brooklyn. Mellie's act, like mine, is improving with age. It would do your heart and soul good to hear the applause that is given them. The opening evening the patrons continued the applause after the curtain was dropped and Mellie and Gram just had to come out again and again in response.

California Makes Challenge

Hattie A. Dorr, formerly of Norway pays 14 cents postage to let us see copies of the Pasadena Star Herald. It is a great paper and nicely printed, but so far away it contains little local news. However it makes mention of Mellie Dunham of Norway, and challenges him to fiddle for California State Championship at a date to be agreed on.

The fiddler making this challenge is 79 and has won everything thus far. We seriously doubt if Mellie will go to the Pacific coast this year.

The Brooklyn, (N. Y.) Citizen says: "Emerson said that the world would beat a path to the door of the man who made the best music trap."

"But every rule has its exception, and Emerson's statement is belied by 'Mellie' Dunham, the little seventy-two year fiddler from Norway, Maine, who is filling an exclusive engagement on the Keith-Albee Circuit and will be a headliner at the E. F. Albee this week."

"Mellie" is a man of several years' experience. He does not come any finer than "Mellie's". He made snowflakes for Peary, the Arctic explorer on all his Arctic expeditions. But flawless as his snowflakes were, the world passed by "Mellie's" accomplishments in that line for his fiddling. White haired and bent, but spry as a boy, "Mellie" has captivated New York with his old time jig and reel.

It was the desire of Henry Ford, Detroit motor magnate, to revive the old American folk dances, that drew "Mellie" out of the fastnesses of a Maine farm—occupied by the Dunham family for ninety-three years—into the spotlight of national interest. Mr. Ford, realizing that there was nothing in modern music which could make the feet move in early American dances, sent out a call for fiddlers—three, four or more.

"The citizens of Norway, Maine, hearing the call, rose as one man and hustled the champion fiddler of their town and State, "Mellie" Dunham, to the scene of the revival.

"Gram" Dunham went along, too, and she and "Mellie" were guests at Mr. Ford's Detroit home for several days while "Mellie" taught the old songs to young musicians gathered at Mr. Ford's request. "Mellie's" own composition, a waltz called "Rippling Waves," was so impressed in the minds of the audience that he is going to include it in his forthcoming publication of early American dance tunes.

A note from the E. F. Albee Theatre, Brooklyn, "Mellie" Dunham, the seventy-two year old fiddler extraordinary to Henry Ford, champion old-time fiddler of the State of Maine and first citizen of the Township of Norway, in that State, will be headlining the business end of the bill at the E. F. Albee Theatre this week. "Mellie" Dunham's discovery by the world's richest man and his subsequent journey to Dearborn, Mich., to play at the Ford dance, are too well known to require recounting. At the Albee, he will appear with "Gram" Dunham and several of his neighbors, young and old, from Norway, Me., in a revival of the old-time barn dances. Another great headliner.

Freeland Howe reports that he has been unable to obtain the full quota of his order for Melville Rippling Waves Waltz for the piano from the publishers, as the first edition was completely sold out and the balance of his order will come from the second printing. He will have on sale "Mellie Dunham's Fifty Fiddling Dance Tunes" composed, selected and featured by "Mellie" Dunham, Maine's Champion Fiddler. There's no better collection of real square dance tunes on the market than this one. An announcement of Mellie's Rippling Waves Waltz by the publishers states that "Mellie" Dunham has had more newspaper publicity during the past months than any other American, and he successfully launched the latest popular fad, the old-time square dance craze. Free publicity in every American newspaper.

"Following upon the animated discussion of old time dance tunes it was decided to publish a collection which Mellie will get together. Among these he will include four of his own compositions, "Rippling Waves Waltz," "Happy Hours," "Norway Schottische," and "Heywood Schottische." The last three have never been in print although Mellie has played them at dances." Music Trades Review.

Because of the popularity of Fiddler Mellie, dance records made by Mellie and his orchestra have been released some weeks ahead of schedule and may soon be procured. At present two contras will be available, "Lady of the Lake" and "Mountain Range." Both are said to be original in rhythm and suggestive of the real country dances as featured up in Maine.

Henry Stone Post American Legion has a plan to celebrate the home coming of Mellie and Gram. This plan includes among other events a grand time and an official welcome at Norway Opera House at which time the Maine couple might make their first public appearance in town after the successful theatrical tour. All net income derived from the celebration would be applied to the Legion building.

Mellie has been approached on the subject and his reply to the American Legion follows:

"Your letter of Feb. 1 at hand. We expect to be home the first of May and will see you about the matter you speak of. My bill would be nothing, as I don't care to take money from the boys who stood between our homes as they are today and the party were in during the uncertain days of 1918. Will see you when I get home. Best wishes to all." Mellie Dunham.

Mrs. W. B. Ley, Elizabeth, N. J.: "We want to hear Mellie play when he was in New York, his act went off finely and we surely did enjoy it. We have had more snow this winter than we have had in years, I guess it came this way so that Mellie would feel some sick and miss the snow he is used to."

Some people are so absent-minded that they forget everything but their trouble, and

Must Rebuild Bridge for New Highway

Robert E. Shaw, E. B. Curtis of the board of selectmen, Perley F. Ripley and O. K. Clifford were in conference with the state highway commission at Augusta, Thursday. The matter under consideration was relative to the proposed concrete highway project from the Park street bridge in South Paris to the corner at Boutelle's to the corner at the West Paris road. It is said the road will not be built unless the bridges are rebuilt. The Park street bridge is said by experts to need replacing with a steel span with concrete abutments and concrete floor is planned, to be set at a different angle, so as to reduce the sharp curves at the approaches. There are two small bridges at Cole's Brook and Stone's Brook, for which concrete structures are planned. The bridge at West Paris, although not on the state road, the town has already voted to rebuild under the bridge act.

An engineer from the state department is expected here later to give information regarding the matter. It is understood that if these bridges are rebuilt under the bridge act, the town's portion of the cost will be something like $25,000.

Shaw's old fashioned dance attracted a large number to the grange hall Tuesday evening when sixteen numbers with march and circle were on the order. Old and young have accepted contras dances as the popular entertainment and all the hall.

Mrs. Thomas Powers underwent a surgical operation at the Central Maine General Hospital on Friday.

William P. Morton is under specialist's treatment at the Central Maine General Hospital for hip trouble. After two weeks in bed with a weight attached to his foot, X-ray examination will decide further treatment.

A Washington Ball will be given by the American Legion in Association Hall, Monday evening, Feb. 22.

"The Village Postoffice" will be given soon by members of the Congregational church. A cast is being assembled to impersonate the collection of "uniques" to appear in the production.

Rev. C. G. Miller has been confined to the house with lameness and the church no preaching service at the Universalist Church, Sunday. Church school was held as usual.

The great laugh provoking drama "Her Husband's Wife" will be presented in Association Hall, March 12, under the auspices of the American Legion. Mae Davis Stevens, the well known local coach is whipping the play into shape for a successful presentation. Cast is as follows:

Irene Randolph Mae Davis Stevens
Sara Randolph Robert Ficks
John Randolph Thomas Barnes
Richard Belden Warren Stevens
Emily Loden Best Silvers
Nora, the maid Doris Marston

The next meeting of the Twin Town Norway Club will be held at the high school assembly room, March 1.

Raymond C. Dunham will serve luncheon in his music store in Association Block. The display shelf in the front window has been removed to accommodate tables.

Arthur B. Talbot has bought the P. W. North farm, located on the East Oxford road, and will move there from Fore Street in the near future.

James H. Combs is a candidate for road commissioner from the south end of the town.

Shaw's orchestra will hold their next old fashioned dance at the South Paris Grange Hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 24th.

Margaret Martin, who is training at the St. Marie's Hospital at Lewiston, underwent an operation for appendicitis, Monday. Her mother, Mrs. James Martin, is with her for a few days. She is reported as doing well.

Hannah Temple Pythian Sisters will hold the regular meeting Tuesday evening, Feb. 23, when the 12th anniversary will be observed featuring a Maine night. There will be the annual roll call and every member will be prepared to tell something about Maine, its beauty spots, its history or anything of interest about our grand old state. A ten cent supper will be served at 6:30 with the officers of the Temple on the committee. Every member is expected to answer to the roll call.

Mrs. John Hemingway is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Abbott. Mr. Hemingway will remain at Kennebago for a while longer.

Phon Brown is doing chores and driving team for George Cushman while Mr. Cushman is serving on the jury.

An interesting program in charge of Mrs. Herman Cole was given at the School League meeting, Friday, Feb. 12, following "Uncle Josh Keeps House" and "A Valentine Plan" by Evelyn Knight.

Refreshments were served and a valentine box well filled was enjoyed by all. Next program will be in charge of Mrs. George Cushman and Norma Cole.

Pupils of the North Woodstock school who received 90 per cent. or more during one week were as follows:

Grade I, Harlan Abbott.
Grade V, Emma Cushman.
Grade VII, Bessie Cushman and Norma Cole.

PERFECT SPELLING

Grade II, Harlan Abbott, Doris Coffin, Lilian Korten.
Grade III, Bernard Cushman.
Grade IV, Edward Smith.
Grade VII, Arnold Coffin and Impi Korten.

Mrs. Herman Cole and children and Miss Parker spent Friday evening at George Abbott's.

Poultry Meetings

The poultry management meetings recently held in Oxford, Watford, Canton and Brownfield were very well attended and were considered a success.

O. M. Wilbur, extension poultry specialist of Orono, was present to conduct the meetings and was assisted by R. P. Thomas, county agent. Mr. Wilbur discussed the subject of feeding poultry in general and brought out some valuable points that will benefit those who heard him. He also explained in detail the data under various heads that was secured from 540 poultry accounts that were kept on Maine farms. Many important points in management were brought out in this discussion.

Lantern slides showing ideal range conditions and proper management of growing stock as well as stock that had been housed were shown.

Mr. Wilbur stated that all of the essential steps in successful poultry husbandry were necessary for best results and that if one was slightly off one could expect unfavorable returns. To those who will properly select the stock for the breeding pens, feed, range and house the stock properly there will continue to be good returns from the poultry flock.

For Better Fairs

Undesirable midway concessionaires, suppression of race times, and old distance races were held up as the evils which must be stamped out at the 14th annual meeting of the New England Fairs Association at the Hotel Kimball, Springfield, Mass., Feb. 11.

Without exception the fair representatives agreed that the future of light harness racing, especially as an attraction at agricultural fairs, depends on gaining the confidence of the public through elimination of any suspicion of irregularity.

In this connection, announcements of correct time in the races are negotiated, and strict adherence to the standard mile races instead of odd distance attractions were considered essential.

There would be more success in life if every man worked as hard as he thinks he does.

Men's Clothing Store

MANY OF OUR SPRING SUITS ARE

HERE TO SHOW

The values look the best for a long time. It is predicted that the coming season will be one of light colors in men's clothing and we have bought with that idea in view. As always, there are those who like blues, grays and browns and you will always find these colors in good variety in our stores.

OUR CLOTHES ARE MADE BY

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

AND CLOTHCRAFT

Many Like Their Suits Made Especially for Them

Here's Where We Come in Strong

Our variety is large. We can show you samples from Ed.

V. Price & Co., Hart Schaffner & Marx, J. L. Taylor & Co. Also a strong line for $23.50 and $30. We are getting excellent fitting garments.
